

Free Public Lecture

Sponsored by

- Australian National University, Friends of the Australian Archaeological Institute of Athens
- Kytherian Brotherhood of Canberra & District

Antikythera – Aegila:
A Persian naval base and a pirates' lair, the “Antikythera shipwreck” in the vortex of the Roman-Cretan war

Aris Georgios Tsaravopoulos
Archaeologist

This will be a presentation about the fortified city on the island of Antikythera and the historical conclusions, based on the archaeological finds and the epigraphic and philological testimonies.

After life as a chemical engineer and a TV producer, Aris Tsaravopoulos turned to archaeology. From 1980 until 2012 he was a member of the Archaeological Service of the Greek Ministry of Culture. He has been involved with many Greek sites. For over twenty years he has worked on the island of Kythera and since 2000 he has conducted a systematic excavation on the island of Antikythera at the site called “Kastro”.

Monday 15 June, 2015, 7.00pm, for a 7.30pm start
Hellenic Club, Canberra. Matilda Street, Woden ACT 2606
Aegean Room, 1st Floor of the Hellenic Club

Contact: George Poulos - 0409 634 185 or Elizabeth Minchin, Elizabeth.Minchin@anu.edu.au

MEGA BOOK SALE

Aegean Room, Hellenic Club

Monday
15 June 2015
10.30am - 6.30pm

DON'T MISS OUT OVER 70 BOOKS

Kytherian Association of Australia & Kytherian World Heritage Fund